THE #ERASMUSDAYS, THE OFFICIAL EUROPEAN CELEBRATION

Launched in 2017 for the 30th anniversary of the programme, the #ErasmusDays has become in three editions an unmissable European celebration for citizens and stakeholders of European projects. On the 10, 11 & 12th of October 2019, 3 995 events were held all around the world to celebrate locally the tangible benefits of Europe. The success of the #ErasmusDays has demonstrated the need to communicate European values, mobility's benefits and Erasmus+ projects results at a large scale in order to be visible by citizens, professionals, media and policy makers. This year, we count more than 53 countries gathered with more than 3 995 events! International players from school education, higher education, adult education, vocational training, youth and sport, have now integrated each year the #ErasmusDays into their strategy.

The #ErasmusDays expand throughout the world thanks to the involvement of 39 Erasmus+ National Agencies, the support of the European Commission (DGEAC) and the European Parliament. 53 countries took part in the 2019 edition: Albania, Armenia, Argentina, Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Cambodia, Cameroun, Canada, Croatia, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Egypt, Estonia, Finland, France, Georgia, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Indonesia, Ireland, Italy, Ivory Coast, Kazakhstan, Kosovo, Latvia, Liechtenstein, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Moldova, Montenegro, Niger, Norway, Pakistan, Poland, Portugal, Republic of Northern Macedonia, Romania, Serbia, Spain, Slovakia, Slovenia, Sweden, The Netherlands, Togo, Turkey, Ukraine, United Kingdom, Uzbekistan.

Seminars, open doors, partners' meetings, photo exhibitions, concerts, treasure hunts, flag parades, conferences, food tasting, fashion shows... the diversity of events organized during these three days illustrates the wide variety of citizens and players concerned by the Erasmus+ programme: students, trainers, teachers, staff, job seekers, companies, organizations, municipalities... The #ErasmusDays took place on campuses, at schools, in city centres, and some institutions opened their doors to the public especially for the occasion.

All events are available on the map of the #ErasmusDays: www.erasmusdays.eu

The #ErasmusDays have:

- concretely illustrated the European projects through the mobilization of Erasmus+ beneficiaries, stakeholders and participants ;
- involved the territories and local players involved (public and private institutions, companies, communities, decision-makers, media);
- federated countries in Europe and in the rest of the world around the Erasmus+ brand;
- given a voice to the 10 million European citizens who have benefited from an Erasmus+ mobility since 1987.

NEW THIS YEAR

A press conference took place at the European Parliament in Brussels for the European launch of the #ErasmusDays on October 10th with Erasmus+ projects holders. Sabine Verheyen (President of the committee on Culture and Education in the European Commission), Giorgio Guazuggli Marini (Committee on Culture and Education in the European Commission), directors and staff from Belgium NA (AEF), Czech NA, Italian NA (Indire) and French NA attended the conference. Erasmus+ beneficiaries from Czech Republic, Belgium and France told about their Erasmus+ experience in front of the press and members of European Parliament.

In many countries, the #ErasmusDays 2019 focused on the 10 million former Erasmus+ beneficiaries (alumni): the #ErasmusDays 2019 gave a voice to these millions of European citizens who provided a wide range of positive testimonies on their European experience using social media and the hashtag #ErasmusDays. They also joined activities to promote Erasmus+ and to share professional network opportunities. Several Erasmus+ alumni organizations were launched during the #ErasmusDays. In many countries, ESN (Erasmus Student Network) was really active and organized workshops, flag parades, karaoke nights...etc.

The #ErasmusDays 2019 were also a great occasion to communicate on European Universities Initiative (Erasmus+ funds) and to illustrate the impact of Jean Monnet activities in European studies for the occasion of the 30th anniversary of the Jean Monnet activities.

For the first time this year, a website dedicated to the #ErasmusDays was created by the French National Agency. The 39 Erasmus+ National Agencies managed the website www.erasmusdays.eu : each programme country had access to the back office of the website to approve the events organized nationally and make them visible on the #ErasmusDays worldmap.

STRATEGIES FOR A BETTER #ERASMUSDAYS IMPLEMENTATION

This part gathered interesting #ErasmusDays practices that deserves to be highlighted from our point of view. Please note that this non exhaustive list of examples depends on the information provided to the French National Agency.

- Communication kit: many Erasmus+ National Agencies provided a communication kit to their national event organizers. This enabled each organizers in one country to have common communication tools to dress up their events in the colors of the #ErasmusDays. Most of these kits contained stickers, pens, balloons, T-shirts... Some event organizers keep this communication kit from one year to another. This facilitates the dissemination of Erasmus+ image all year long through different European celebrations : for example, Europe Day on May the 9th, Festival of Languages...

In France, the NA decided to provide for the first time a giant European map to the French event organizers. Most of them really appreciated it, especially in school sector, where they could display it into the classroom.

In Czech Republic, the first ten institutions who published their events on www.erasmusdays.eu until a specific date could receive a physical promotional kit. This was a really successful way to boost the event registrations in Czech Republic quite early.

- #ErasmusDays partners: in order to have a major impact and to highlight different issues, it is necessary to involve all the national networks related to Erasmus+ (e-Twinning, Europass, EPALE, Erasmus Student Network, Garage Erasmus, Ocean network, Erasmus Mundus alumni association) and also the ones not directly related to the programme (student organizations, employment agencies...). In France, Missions Locales (access point for employment and social services) organized 118 events all around the country and took the advantage of the #ErasmusDays to launch its Erasmus+ alumni organization. Employment agencies were also really active.

- Beneficiaries' strategy: it is important to include the #ErasmusDays in the strategy of the Erasmus+ beneficiaries from the very beginning of their Erasmus+ project: when the project is launched, beneficiaries must know that they will have the opportunity to showcase their project and find new partners during this special time of the year.

- Politicians' involvement: involving politicians in the #ErasmusDays is a great way to highlight the importance of Erasmus+ at a national level and to get media coverage. With the support of politicians, event organizers have also the feeling of being part of an official celebration that take place internationally.

In Austria, an event organized in the city hall of Vienna started with a video message by the President of Austria Alexander Van der Bellen, in which he pointed out the importance of the Erasmus+ programme and its significant impact.

In Cyprus, Ms. Themis Christophidou, Director-General for Education and Culture of the European Commission, took part in the 3rd Erasmus Festival that took place in Nicosia.

In France, the #ErasmusDays have benefited from the High Patronage of the President of the Republic, Mr. Emmanuel Macron. Three French ministers supported the #ErasmusDays through video messages posted on social media: Minister for Education Jean-Michel Blanquer, Minister of higher Education, Research and Innovation Frédérique Vidal, Minister of Culture Franck Riester.

In Spain, the Minister of Science, Innovation and Universities Pedro Duque recorded a video for the #ErasmusDays. As a Minister and a Spanish astronaut, he has a great impact on social media and his supportive tweet during the #ErasmusDays was one of the most liked (see p.12).

- Videos and television: some very interesting videos were made during the events organized. We encourage you to have a look at:

In Hungary, Liechtenstein, Spain and in other countries, the #ErasmusDays were covered on the national television. The Director of the Hungarian NA and the Spanish NA were interviewed at the TV, while the event taking place in Liechtenstein was filmed and broadcasted for the first participation of the country in the #ErasmusDays.

- Events: please find here a selection of remarkable events regarding their impact (venue, institutional context, number of attendees...).

Austria: in the Viennese main train station, about 150 pupils rocked the public space with instruments and a choir presenting the Ode to Joy to show their European spirit.

Pupils from the secondary school, the Adalbert Stifter Gymnasium in Linz, attracted huge attention on Erasmus+ with their music performance in the city centre of their hometown Linz.

Argentina: the Uncuyo University in Mendoza was highlighting its Erasmus+ project Vitaglobal that aims to develop sustainable viticulture in Mendoza, with partner Universities in South America, Europe, and South Africa. With this participation in the #ErasmusDays, Argentina highlights the Erasmus+ impact on every continent.

France: the #ErasmusDays was a good opportunity for French universities involved in a European Universities Initiative to present their project. The European university alliances are an initiative funded by Erasmus+ and has a great institutional support and media coverage.

Liechtenstein: the first Erasmus+ Tour in Liechtenstein took place during the #ErasmusDays. The aim was to visit, biking all municipalities in which at least one Erasmus+ project promoter organization is based.

Slovakia: some schools and education organizations chose to celebrate Erasmus+ within activities which help others and our environment. They organized Erasmus+ blood donations and Green Erasmus+, cleaning school parks, river banks and their surroundings. As this Green Erasmus+ topic will be one of the most important in 2020, we considered interesting to organize this kind of events for the #ErasmusDays

A parade of Erasmus+ students took place on the streets of Maribor. The parade was colored by the flags of the Erasmus+ students and in the same way, they painted their faces in these colors or use various items.

Approximately 400 students and volunteers participated in an event organized in a train. The participants hold

#Erasmusdays pancartes in a special carriage along the way from Ankara to Eskişehir. In Eskişehir, participant institutions shared their Erasmus+ activities in the stands allocated.

The Mayor of Vienna was invited to a reception in the Viennese City Hall to celebrate the Erasmus+ programme and demonstrate the “Plus of Erasmus+ for the City of Vienna”. Incoming and outgoing students and apprentices, pupils, Erasmus+ project coordinators and participants from all 4 educational sectors of Erasmus+ as well as stakeholders and representatives from the European Parliament as Othmar Karas, one of the vice-presidents and the European Commission highlighted Erasmus+, its positive impact on the singular beneficiaries, the organizations and the City of Vienna. The event started with a video message by the President of Austria Alexander Van der Bellen, in which he pointed out the importance of the Erasmus+ programme and its significant impact. The stories of beneficiaries of every age, various nations and educational background emphasizing on their personal experiences, contributed to the big success of the event.

Three schools put together all their musical talents and jointly featured an outstanding music performance at the Viennese main train station. About 150 pupils rocked the public space with instruments and a choir presenting the “Ode to Joy” to show their European spirit, to bring out the positive impact of the participation in the Erasmus+ programme and the successful realization of their Erasmus+ projects at their schools. One musician after another showed up in the main hall of the train station and started playing their instruments, being joined by other pupils singing, ending in a fulminant concert of instruments and voices. Hundreds of travelers stopped to follow the great show.

Pupils from the secondary school, the Adalbert Stifter Gymnasium in Linz, attracted huge attention on Erasmus+ with their music performance in the city centre of their hometown Linz. The idea of the flash mob was to show the importance of the cross linking in Europe, to learn from each other through diversity and search for harmony regarding important issues in Europe as art, music and education. Representing this ideas, two drummers opened the music performance on the main square of the city centre, being joined little by little from other musicians coming from all different directions of the square, to gather and start their march jointly as a whole brass band through the streets of Linz. The traffic was blocked by the police and the attention of hundreds of people attracted. The end of the march culminated in the first public performance of the “Erasmus Hymn” especially composed by the only 16-year old pupil Matthias Achleitner for the occasion of ending the flash mob and opening the eTwinning Award ceremony at the same time.

Le collège de la Lys fête cette année ses 20 ans de projets Comenius – Erasmus +. Ces projets ont permis le déplacement de plus de 150 élèves en Europe. A cette occasion, nous avons distribué 1000 gourdes « célébrations » aux élèves du secondaire des 2 sites ainsi qu'aux élèves de 5ème et 6ème primaire sans oublier les élèves de notre CEFA. On espère que cette gourde sera utilisée afin de limiter les bouteilles en plastique. Un petit geste pour notre planète.

The International Business School of Botevgrad organized an open Erasmus+ international students' conference, named Opportunities and Challenges of Student Mobility which took place 2019 in Sofia, Bulgaria.

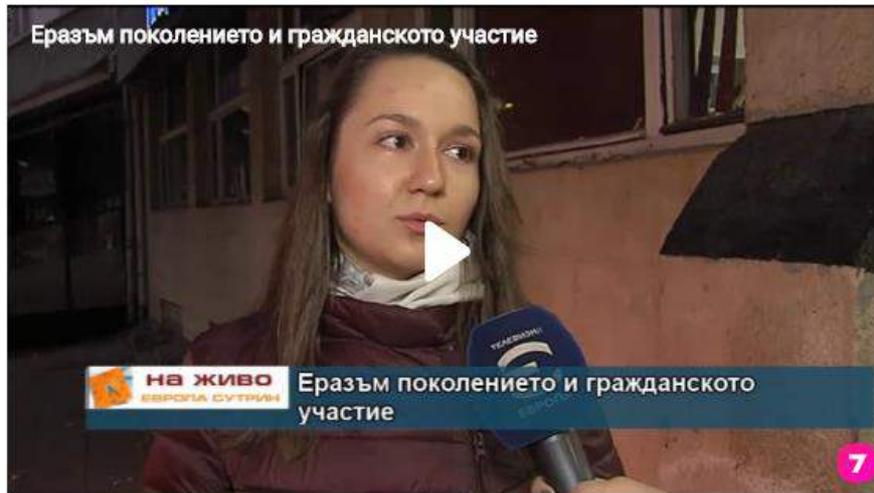

During the conference, opportunities were given for students and potentially interested participants to share and discuss common problems and experience in the frame of the Erasmus+ programme. The students were able to present their point of view, regarding the European values, the benefits of the educational mobility, the positive impact of the project results and the importance of the Erasmus+ programme. The participants shared their own experience and discussed the future opportunities of the programme. After the conference a workshop titled Welcome Erasmus+ students! was organized where the practical aspects of what is to be an Erasmus student were discussed.

Erasmus Student Network Bulgaria organized the Erasmus+ - The Journey of Your Life seminar, geared towards informing the wider audience on the possibilities that the participation in the Erasmus+ programme provides. During the event a string of interesting and inspiring stories were presented by volunteers, who shared their invaluable experience and unforgettable memories that they have accumulated during their international mobilities, in which they were able to study, experience, exchange and practice abroad. Further proof that the mobility can be viewed as a way of life, were also the stories of the international guests, like one couple from Italy and Poland, who after numerous trips abroad as Erasmus+ students, finally gathered and created their future together in Sofia. The event was further supported by the European Commission representation office in Bulgaria with a presentation on Erasmus+ as a EU priority, emphasizing the positive impact of the programme on multitude of aspects, such as the increase of the civic activity of the young people and the development of a European self-awareness, and sharing of common values.

The 3rd Erasmus Festival was organized by the Foundation for the Management of European Lifelong Learning Programmes and the Youth Board of Cyprus, with the collaboration of the Representation of the European Commission in Faneromeni Square. The theme of the festival was related with the European Year of Democratic Participation.

The public had the opportunity to be informed about funding opportunities within the programme by representatives of the two National Agencies and by the beneficiaries of the programme themselves. In the project exhibition that took place, the public had the opportunity to see projects which were considered examples of good practice and be inspired to participate in the programme in the future. More specifically, the public had the chance to participate in robotics workshops, 3D printing workshop, treasure hunt, knowledge games and many others while at the same time enjoy the theatre and dance performances of beneficiaries.

Kiiminki general upper secondary school participates in #ErasmusDays in a way that comes naturally to the school

The #ErasmusDays event is celebrated between 10 and 12 October 2019. During the event, information on what people have experienced and learned in the education, training, youth and sports projects under the Erasmus+ programme will be spread across Europe. The Kiiminki general upper secondary school participates in the event as part of the school's seven-week team learning period organised every autumn.

Proficiency through dialogue, a two-year Erasmus+ staff training project, is currently under way at the Kiiminki upper secondary school. During the project, the school's teaching staff participate in international courses that promote team learning, ICT skills and the objectives of the new curriculum. Participation in the project has benefited the school a great deal.

– In addition to new competence, our teachers have provided our school with new contacts to the other European countries. After the courses, they have shared their new knowledge with the other teachers and have also launched some small-scale eTwinning projects with the teachers they have met on these courses. We can make use of what people have learned on the courses, for example, during the team learning period, when we study across subject boundaries, says Pia Räsänen, the headmaster of the Kiiminki general upper secondary school.

Everyone in the school immediately decided they wanted to participate in the #ErasmusDays event. Räsänen sees the event as an opportunity to create international visibility to what happens in their school.

– The event has not been defined too strictly so we can participate in a way and from a point of view that is suitable for our school. We saw the #ErasmusDays event as an opportunity to highlight the cooperation between different subjects in our school and show how we make use of the new competence acquired by our teachers, Räsänen explains.

#ErasmusDays fits easily into the school's annual activities

For several years, the Kiiminki general upper secondary school has organised a seven-week team learning period in autumn. As all first-year students in the school participate in it, it was natural for the school to make participation in the event part of the team learning period.

– This year, the themes of the team learning period are related to the EU's operation and goals. During the #ErasmusDays event, the topic of the period will be "Tomorrow in Europe – values and goals". It goes well with the theme of the event and it will be easy to produce material for the event during that time, says Räsänen.

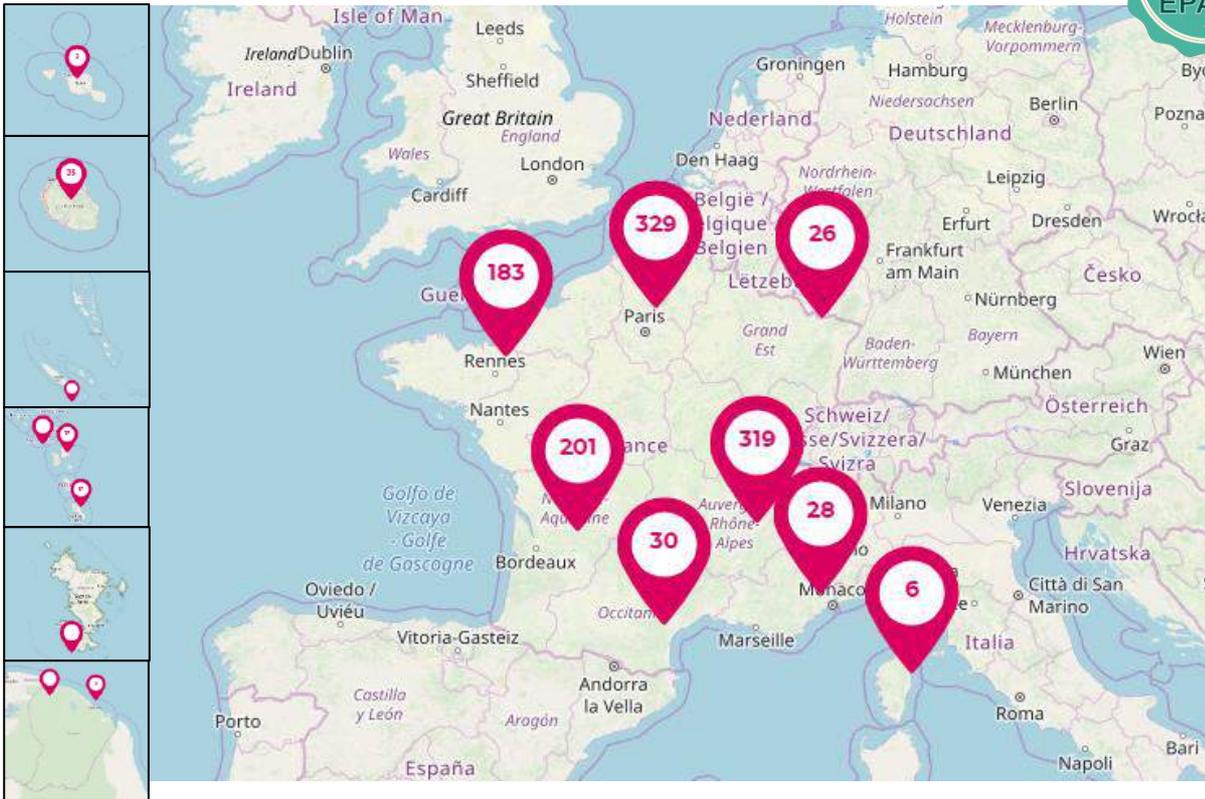

The Kiiminki general upper secondary school has actively participated in international activities. But what do internationalisation, international cooperation and Europeanness mean to them?

– The world is a "small" place today and it is important for our school to prepare the students to be part of an international world. We bring Europe and international contacts into the classroom in a variety of ways. Erasmus+ projects play a part in making it possible, says Räsänen.

After a great welcome at Lycée Don Bosco (with traditional drums, songs and dances) all participants had a very interesting meeting with Mr. Fritch, President of French Polynesia about European Citizenship and multicultural issues that affect the whole planet. These topics have been re-analyzed during a challenging debate at Assemblée Territoriale where all the delegates (students participating in the project) have come to an agreement and resolutions to propose to each country.

The event organized by Ca' Foscari University of Venice aimed to celebrate Erasmus+ mobility for studies and traineeships and to present all the programme-related initiatives promoted by the University.
