Teachers' and school heads' salaries and allowances in Europe

This interactive tool provides data on statutory and actual salaries of full-time, fully qualified teachers and school heads in public schools, as well as information on the allowances that they may get in addition to their statutory salaries. It covers 39 education systems in 37 European countries, that are members of the Eurydice network. Data may also cover private government-dependent schools, which in some countries constitute the large majority of schools (see national information).
Data is collected in accordance with the International Standard Classification of Education \(ISCED\) for pre-primary, primary, lower and upper general secondary education.
Salary data refers to annual gross salaries, and may be:

- Statutory data: Defined in regulations or other steering documents.
- Actual data: Average actual earnings, including allowances and other additional payments.

For more information:

- The methodology is explained in the Quality framework
- The definitions of statutory and actual salaries, allowances, ISCED levels and other relevant terms can be consulted in the Glossary
- Data was collected with the contribution of the Eurydice network member countries.
- Previous Eurydice reports on teachers' and school heads' salaries and allowances from 2012/2013 to 2020/2021 are available here.
